

Meter Reading Log

| Today's Date | Today's Meter Reading | Minus | Previous Meter Reading | Equals | Gallons Used | Divided by # of Days Between Readings | Equals | Average Gallons Used per Day |
|--------------|-----------------------|-------|------------------------|--------|--------------|---------------------------------------|--------|------------------------------|
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              | ÷                                     | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |
|              |                       | -     |                        | =      |              |                                       | =      |                              |

City of Brentwood bills in units. Each unit is 1,000 gallons. Therefore to calculate approximate monthly use, multiply the average daily use by 30 (days) and divide by 1,000.