Subject: Re: Please reconsider conditional use permit to sell alcohol at Toro Viejo Taqueria

CAUTION – EXTERNAL SENDER

Please include the following email message in public comments during tonight's council meeting.

Good afternoon,

I am following up on my previous email encouraging the City of Brentwood to reconsider approval of a Conditional Use Permit to sell alcohol at Toro Viejo Taqueria. Not only is the restaurant within close proximity to Kiddie Academy it is also within 434 feet of Garin Elementary School.

I am disappointed that the city would rubber stamp this approval without discussion outlining the reason to go against Alcoholic Beverage Control's rule of not selling alcohol within 600 feet of schools. Garin is 434 away from the restaurant and I do not recall seeing mention of Garin Elementary in the staff report provided to the Planning Commission for their approval.

What precedent is the city setting for the sale of alcohol near public schools and playgrounds? When is the sale of alcohol near schools and public playgrounds considered contrary to public welfare and morals? I encourage there to be, at a minimum, discussion about the precedent being set and what guidelines the city staff should adhere to moving forward when bringing items such as this forward for commission and council approval.

Thank you,
Stephanie Williams-Rogers

To whom it may concern,

I was recently made aware of the Planning Commission's approval of a Conditional Use Permit to sell alcohol at Toro Viejo Taqueria, located at 8610 Brentwood Blvd, Suite F in Brentwood, CA.

As a parent of a child that attends Kiddie Academy, an educational childcare program, I am disappointed in the approval to sell alcohol within close proximity of this local academy that serves children (infants to those who are school aged).

I strongly encourage the City of Brentwood to reconsider their approval of a Conditional Use Permit to sell alcohol.
